

ENGLISH SEND THEIR FLEETS

Will Stop The Actions of Russia On The Red Sea...Mean Business Now In Earnest

FIRST REAL DIFFERENCE COMES UP

England Must Now Face The Great Issue Of Meeting Russia Face To Face Upon The Eastern War Questions.

(Special by Scripps-McLae.)
St. Petersburg, July 19.—It is reported a Russian torpedo boat and a German vessel had been sunk at Vladivostok as the result of striking a mine. Both crews were lost.

Capture Ship
Suez, July 19.—The British steamship Malacca which was seized in the Red sea by the Russian cruiser Petersburg last week, has arrived here flying a Russian flag and in charge of Russian officers and crew. The British company's agent was refused admittance aboard the vessel.

More Vessels
Constantinople, July 19.—The port authorities authorized two additional Russian volunteer cruisers to pass through the Dardanelles.

Check Seizure
Berlin, July 19.—England has informed Germany of the dispatch of an English fleet of eighteen warships to Alexandria with the intention of checking Russian illegalities in the Red sea. It is expected the demonstration will cause Russians to subside meekly. General feeling here is the first European complication with regard to war in the far east has arrived.

Heavy Fog
Tokio, July 19.—At 3 o'clock Sunday morning a heavy fog veiling their movements, two divisions of Russians, commanded by Lieutenant General Keller, made an assault on the Japanese positions at Motien Pass.

General Kuroki reports that the Russians assaulted all the Japanese positions at Motien Pass and in its vicinity desperately. The Japanese resisted stubbornly, repulsed the Russians and pursued them for a considerable distance westward. General Kuroki in his report praises the valor of his men.

Base of Supplies
St. Petersburg, July 19.—Kuropatkin's attack on the Japanese at Motien Pass is regarded by the general staff here as conclusive evidence that the Russian flank and rear are not at the mercy of Kuroki. It is also thought to show that Kuropatkin has so disposed of his latest reinforcements as to check Kuroki's troops on the extreme north and give the Russians a certain power of initiative along its southeast and south front.

The Situation
Rome, July 19.—The situation growing out of the action of the Russian volunteer fleet cruisers St. Petersburg and Smolensk in holding up and forcibly searching the steamers of all nationalities in the Red sea is rapidly approaching an acute stage and the chances of Europe are greatly aroused.

The Italian foreign office was in communication throughout yesterday with diplomatic representatives abroad. It is understood that Germany will content herself with the note of protest already sent, in view of the fact that the prize seized from the steamer Prinz Heinrich has been released.

Great Britain, however, is expected to go further. In fact, according to the correspondent of the Tribune at Suez, the British armored cruiser Terrible sailed from that port southward yesterday under sealed orders. It is understood that these orders directed her commander to sail southward and to act as an escort to all British shipping in danger of molestation by a foreign power.

The Russian foreign office has sent a communication to the powers which declares that the Russian cruisers are within their rights in searching the vessels suspected of carrying contraband of war and denying that any insults have been placed upon the flags of foreign powers. The note however, does not state that the cruisers will be withdrawn.

Heavy Losses
London, July 19.—A press dispatch from General Kuroki's headquarters states the Russian losses in the fight at Motien Pass are now computed at two thousand; the Japanese at three hundred. The Japanese demonstrated again their superior marksmanship and also outflanked and out-generalled the enemy on every point.

Japanese Repel Russian Attack
London, July 19.—Russian arms have suffered another disaster, this time at Motien Pass. Gen. Count Keller, with 20,000 men and fourteen guns, surprised the Japanese forces, but after a battle which continued for twelve hours the Japanese retook all the positions from which they had been driven.

The Russian army then retreated and was pursued for several hours. Gen. Kuropatkin admits that more than 1,000 Russians were killed or wounded.

The correspondent of the Times at Gen. Kuroki's headquarters says that the Japanese losses during the fighting at Motien Pass on July were trifling. The Morning Post's correspondent at Gen. Kuroki's headquarters, telegraphing under date of July 17, says:

Japanese Rally.
"A Russian force, apparently about 20,000 strong, attacked the front, left, and right of the Japanese positions on the western slope of Motien Pass at 2 a. m. to-day under cover of a dense fog. The sudden onslaught drove in the Japanese posts, but as soon as reinforcements arrived the Japanese gallantly advanced to the attack, and after severe fighting, drove off the Russians and reoccupied the position. The Russians retired, their retreat being well covered. The fighting lasted until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and when I left the scene desultory firing was still proceeding."

Russia Is Antagonized.
St. Petersburg, July 19.—Gen. Count Keller's attempt to drive the Japanese out of Motien Pass resulted in a serious disaster to Russian arms.

Gen. Kuropatkin reports that Count Keller lost more than 1,000 men in killed or wounded in the attack. News of the Japanese victory was entirely unexpected and was at first discredited. All doubts, however, were dispelled by a lengthy report from Gen. Kuropatkin admitting Russian defeat.

Develops Enemy's Strength.
An important fact developed by the reconnaissance was the exact location of powerful Japanese force secreted in the region between Fensui and Motien passes. Its strength is indicated by the fact that twenty-one battalions were insufficient to permanently force the Japanese positions, though some of them were occupied temporarily. On the other hand, it would appear from the report that the Japanese were either disinclined or unable to follow up Lieut. Gen. Keller when he retired to his former position at Ikhuwan.

British Fleet Sails.
Malta, July 19.—The British Mediterranean fleet, under Admiral Doreville, has sailed for Alexandria, Egypt. Its reported purpose is to police the Mediterranean and Red seas, and to convey British merchantmen to prevent them being interfered with by the Russians.

Boats Strike Mines.
St. Petersburg, July 19.—A Russian torpedo boat and a German vessel struck mines at Vladivostok and sank. Their crews perished.

WIRE SCREENS TO CHECK MOSQUITOES IN PANAMA

Governor General Davis Makes Regulation for 100,000 Yards of Material to Keep Out Pests.

Washington, July 19.—Gen. Davis, governor general of the Panama canal strip, has advised the Panama canal commission that he wants 100,000 yards of wire gauze to prevent mosquito invasion of the zone. Gen. Davis says that this will be perhaps the largest order for mosquito netting ever given. He recommends the use of steel wire screens not coarser than seventeen meshes to the square inch, galvanized.

Admiral Walker suggests that copper and brass wire also might be utilized. For the hospitals 20,000 yards will be needed, while for screening the houses along the canal zone 75,000 yards will be required. Two thousand yards are to be used to protect the De Lesseps houses at Cristobal.

FRANCE MAY DISSOLVE CONCORDAT WITH POPE

Invitation to Bishop Gay of Laval to Resign From the Church May Be Taken as an Excuse.

Rome, July 19.—From the highest source it is learned that the pope regards the dissolution of the concordat by France as absolutely certain. The pretext is that the holy see, before the visit of President Loubet to Rome, called on Bishop Gay of Laval to resign. He refused and was summoned to Rome to answer the gravest charges.

The bishop appealed to the French government, which claimed that the holy see was infringing the concordat, but as the bishop had not been punished Foreign Minister Delcasse acknowledged that the vatican was within its rights. However, while in the concordat itself there is nothing to show that the vatican was not within its rights, Premier Combes differs with his colleague and bases his contention on the so-called organic articles, which constitute an enlargement or explanation of the concordat made by the French government and which was never acknowledged by the holy see. The pontiff is firmly decided to proceed with the case of the bishop, who, if he is not in Rome on the 28th instant, will be suspended. The bishop was invited by Pope Leo XIII to resign and refused to do so.

EDGERTON COUPLE ARE DIVORCED

According To A Madison Dispatch They Failed To Agree From Their Wedding Night.

(Special to The Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., July 19.—A wedding-night quarrel induced by the groom's dictatorial attitude toward his bride on the subject of the amount of wine she should swallow was the real ground of an action in which a divorce was yesterday granted in the circuit court at Madison. Desertion the day following the wedding and a marriage in name only were the allegations proved in the application. Hugo T. Coles and his wife, Louisa P. Coles, were married at Edgerton, Rock county, April 22, 1903, but never lived together for the reasons stated. The defendant made no defense in court but made a claim for damages and alimony for the alleged reason that since her wedding to Coles she has had to refuse other and advantageous offers of marriage. The court made no allowance for alimony or support.

When a youth of 17 Ernest left home after a reprimand from his father. He had nothing but the clothes he wore. He made his way to the west and, after working for a time, bought a mule team, rigged up a wagon, and, with a few cheap attractions and some acrobatic features, he had learned to give 10-cent shows. Gradually adding to his outfit, he enlarged his tours and made money rapidly. He traveled through the mining sections of the west and the cotton districts of the south and became famous as a showman. He has had an adventurous and successful career.

IMPORTING MEN BY CAR LOADS

Packers In Chicago Are In For A Fight And Are Making Plans For Deciding Contest

STRIKERS ARE LESS CONFIDENT

May Ask For Another Conference Before The Day Is Out Or May Call All Unions To Come To Their Aid.

(Special by Scripps-McLae.)
Chicago, July 19.—Nonunion negroes and Italians are being shipped in hourly to take the places of the strikers at the stockyards. The packers this morning increased the number of killing beds in operation. Thirty butchers arrived from Philadelphia and began work instructing the inexperienced workmen. The attitude of the packers is more confident and less conciliatory. They believe the strike will be broken. Unions are less confident, but predict a victory. Union leaders in conference this morning may decide to ask for another joint conference with the packers looking towards a settlement or they may adopt measures leading to a strike of affiliated unions.

In Kansas City
Kansas City, Mo., July 19.—Thirty-seven expert butchers arrived this morning from Missouri towns to take the places of strikers. Order prevails. Threaten "Sympathetic Strike."

An extended conference was held between President Donnelly, Vice-President Floersch and Secretary Call of the butcher workmen, and International Secretary and Treasurer C. L. Shamp and Business Agent J. W. Morton of the firemen in regard to a sympathetic strike at the yards. It was agreed that a sympathetic strike could not be averted if present conditions continue, and a decision was reached to send a letter to the packers.

The letter will be signed by President Donnelly, and will inform the employers in substance that the butcher workmen have "conceded everything possible, and that if the packers consider the welfare of the men whom they have hired since the strike to be of more importance than that of the strikers that an appeal for assistance will be made to all union men employed at the yards."

The strikers say that a walkout of the engineers, firemen, steam fitters and coopers will be a heavy blow to the packing industry. When the coopers quit, it is said, some of the ship-ping departments will be badly crippled. According to the present program the different unions will not be asked to go out in a body.

Still Hopes for Peace.
"We are endeavoring to do everything in our power to bring about negotiations for peace before a sympathetic strike is called," said President Donnelly. "We are still hoping that the packers will make at least one concession in return for all that we have made. The men at work are eager to go out, but I will not ask them to strike until all means to secure a satisfactory arbitration of the dispute have been exhausted. We have conceded to the packers everything they asked except the provision that the men be released within a specified time. Such a concession we could not make under any circumstances."

According to the strike leaders, the firemen will go out if a sympathetic strike is called.

Statement by Packers.
The packers take a different view of the situation, according to the following statement given out in reference to their conference with the representatives of the firemen:

"Joseph W. Morton, business agent of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen; International Secretary and Treasurer C. L. Shamp of Omaha, and Charles H. Wall of Kansas City, chairman of the executive council, met a committee representing the packers at the stockyards with a view to ascertaining the exact status of affairs."

"The information received by the firemen up to this date having been newspaper reports almost entirely, the packers' committee went over the ground thoroughly with them, giving them the exact data from the commencement of the controversy until the end of negotiations on Saturday night last. It is understood that Messrs. Morton, Shamp and Wall indicated that they had not, up to this time, fully understood the matter, and upon the showing made by the packers' committee, admitted that the right was on the side of the packers. As a result of the investigation made by Messrs. Morton, Shamp and Wall, it is not thought that the stationary firemen will strike."

"One thousand loaves of bread and a car load of ice will be distributed daily by the packers among needy families in the stockyards district that are affected by the strike."

At Kansas City
Kansas City, July 19.—Business Agent Reinhardt of the packing trades council was advised today that the engineers and firemen are ready and anxious to strike in behalf of the butchers. Reinhardt said if no agreement is reached before midnight a general strike will be called here. Sixty men deserted the packers this morning.

At St. Paul
St. Paul, July 19.—The strike condition is ominous today. President Willis and business agent Steep have been deposed from the management of the strike for ordering the abandonment of picket lines after the interview with the governor. The union appointed a committee to take charge of the strike and pickets are ordered back. Pickets this morning clashed with the police who are helping the strike breakers through the lines. One striker was arrested.

WISCONSIN MAN IS PROFESSIONAL

Former Football Player Is Made Coach of The North Dakota College.

Albert L. Marshall of Rennselaer, Indiana, last season coach of athletics at the Highland military academy near Chicago, who was a star player on the Wisconsin football teams of 1890, 1896 and 1901, has been elected athletic director of the North Dakota Agricultural college at Fargo, and has accepted the position. The salary is $1,200 a year. He was recommended for the place by former Director E. B. Cochems, a former team mate on the Wisconsin eleven, who is now assistant football coach at Madison. Marshall is remembered as having been paid $300 a year to attend school at Madison. It was through Coach Phil Kling that he came to Wisconsin from the Hoosier state. Marshall played at halfback on the 1900 team that was defeated 6 to 5 by Minnesota at Minneapolis. The Badgers had the ball to the Gopher line, a foot from a winning score. Marshall tried to get over and failed, but held the name of being one of the greatest players in the west. He was quarterback on the champion 1901 team that whipped Chicago 16 to 0. His devotion to athletics caused him to get so far behind in his studies that the faculty caused him to leave the institution. As a director of athletics he has "made good."

THE TWO PLATFORMS.

In a certain large sense the presidential contest of this year is to be a contest between candidates instead of platforms. The personalities of Roosevelt and Parker are certain to figure largely in the campaign. Moreover, they stand for certain ideas and certain tendencies that do not figure prominently in their party platforms. Behind them are certain interests which are not clearly represented in the platforms. In regard to the trust issue President Roosevelt's public policy is a stronger platform than that made by his party. In regard to the money issue, Judge Parker has already made his own platform, his party having expressed no opinion on that subject.

But nevertheless a comparison of the two platforms is instructive. It does throw some light on the tendencies of the two parties, and indicates what may be expected from them in the event of the triumph of either. We have therefore thrown into parallel columns summaries of the platform declarations of the two parties in regard to money, tariff, and the trusts. The three questions of most concern to business interests. The comparison is as follows:

REPUBLICAN.

Money.

It is the duty of the republican party to uphold the gold standard and the integrity of our national currency.

Tariff.

"We insist upon the maintenance of the principle of protection and the rates of duty should be readjusted when conditions have so changed that the public interest demands their alteration. But this work cannot safely be committed to any other hands than those of the republican party."

Trusts.

"Combinations of capital and of labor are the results of the economic movement of the age, but neither must be permitted to infringe upon the rights and interests of the people. Such combinations when lawfully formed for lawful purposes are alike entitled to the protection of the laws; but both are subject to the laws and neither can be permitted to break them. Laws enacted by the republican party failed to enforce and which were intended for the protection of the public against the unjust discrimination or the illegal encroachment of vast aggregations of capital have been fearlessly enforced by a republican president and new laws ensuring reasonable publicity as to the operations of great corporations and providing additional remedies for the prevention of discrimination in freight rates have been passed by a republican congress."

President Roosevelt, in his last annual message, said:

"The consistent policy of the national government, so far as it has the power, is to hold in check the unscrupulous man, whether employer or employee; but to refuse to weaken individual initiative or to hamper or cramp the industrial development of the country. We recognize that this is an era of federation and combination, in which great capitalistic corporations and labor unions have become factors of tremendous importance in all industrial centers. Hearty recognition is given the far-reaching, beneficent work which has been accomplished through both corporations and unions, and the line as between different corporations as between different unions, is drawn as it is between different individuals; that is, it is drawn on conduct, the effort being to treat both organized capital and organized labor alike; asking nothing save that the interest of each shall be brought into harmony with the interest of the general public, and that the conduct of each shall conform to the fundamental rules of obedience to law, of individual freedom, and of justice and fair dealing toward all."

DEMOCRATIC.

Money.

Silent.

But Judge Parker says:

"I regard the gold standard as firmly and irrevocably established, and shall act accordingly."

Tariff.

"We denounce protection as a robbery of the many to enrich the few and we favor a tariff limited to the needs of the government economically administered, and so levied as not to discriminate against any industry, class or section, to the end that the burdens of taxation shall be distributed as equally as possible. We favor a revision and a gradual reduction of the tariff by the friends of the masses and for the commonwealth and not by the friends of its abuses, its extortions and its discriminations, keeping in view the ultimate ends of equality of burdens and equality of opportunities, and the constitutional purposes of raising a revenue by taxation, to wit, the support of the federal government in all its integrity and virility, but in simplicity."

Trusts.

"We recognize that the gigantic trusts and combinations designed to enable capital to secure more than its just share of the joint products of capital and labor, and which have been fostered and promoted under republican rule, are a menace to beneficial competition and an obstacle to permanent business prosperity. A private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable. Individual equality of opportunity and free competition are essential to a healthy and permanent commercial prosperity; and any trust combination or monopoly tending to destroy these, by controlling production, restricting competition of fixing prices should be prohibited and punished by law. We especially denounce rebates and discrimination by transportation companies. As the most potent agency in promoting and strengthening these unlawful conspiracies against trade, we demand an enlargement of the powers of the interstate commission to the end that the traveling public and shippers of this country may have prompt and adequate relief for the abuses to which they are subjected in the matter of transportation. We demand a strict enforcement of existing civil and criminal statutes against all such trusts, combinations, and monopolies, and we demand the enactment of such further legislation as may be necessary to effectually suppress them. Any trust or unlawful combination engaged in interstate commerce which is monopolizing any branch of business or production should not be permitted to transact business outside of the state of its origin. Whenever it shall be established in any court of competent jurisdiction that such monopolization exists, such prohibition should be enforced through comprehensive laws to be enacted on the subject."

The chief difference in the platforms (if we accept Judge Parker's gold standard declaration as making good the silence of his party on that subject) is in regard to the tariff. Here is a real division that can be plainly seen. The republican platform insists on the maintenance of protection, with such readjustments as may be considered necessary by the friends of the protective policy.

The democratic platform drops all reference to "a tariff for revenue only," and does not reassert its claim made in 1892 that "the government has no constitutional power to impose tariff duties except for purpose of revenue only." But it wants a revision and gradual reduction of the tariff "by the friends of the masses," with the end kept in view of the support of the government in "simplicity."

But the main difference is in these phrases: Republican—"We insist upon the maintenance of the principle of protection;" Democratic—"We denounce protection."

The two parties, therefore, split on the question of protection to home industries. Those financial interests which seek to destroy Roosevelt by electing Parker, run therefore the risk of tariff changes in the opposite direction from protection, and when one turns his back on protection he must necessarily turn it toward free trade. But, of course, these interests may think that they will be safeguarded by a republican senate, and can exercise a sufficient influence with a democratic administration to keep it from going too far astray.

FOREIGN TRADE.

The foreign commerce of the United States in the fiscal year 1904 is the largest in its history; the exports of manufactures are larger than in any preceding year, and the exports of domestic products exceed those of any other country.

This is the substance, in a single sentence, of the record of the year's commerce just announced by the Department of Commerce and Labor through its Bureau of Statistics. It shows, taking up the figures in detail, that the total exports during the year ending June 30, 1904, are $1,460,820,533, against $1,420,141,679 in the fiscal year 1903, an increase of $40,678,854; that the imports for the year are $990,745,884, against $1,025,719,237 in 1903, a decrease of $34,974,153; and that the excess of exports over imports is $470,074,655, against $394,422,412 in 1903, an increase of $75,652,243 in the excess of exports over imports.

Comparing the figures of 1904 with those of earlier years, it may be said that the total exports are larger than in any preceding year except 1901, that the imports are greater than in any preceding year except 1903; and that the total commerce—the imports and exports combined—in 1904 is greater than that of any preceding year. The total commerce of the year amounts to $2,451,574,823 against $2,445,860,916 in 1903, and $2,310,337,156 in 1901, the years in which imports and exports, respectively, made higher records than those of 1904. Thus, while neither imports nor exports for 1904 reach the high record of a single earlier year the total of imports and exports combined in 1904 exceeds the total commerce of any earlier year.

In manufactures the exports of the year will make their highest record. While the figures of manufactures exported for the full fiscal year 1904 have not yet been completed by the Bureau of Statistics, the fact that the eleven months' figures already completed exceed by 17 million dollars those of the corresponding period of the record year, 1903, makes it apparent that the total exports of manufactures in 1904 will be greater than those of any preceding year.

It is also apparent that the exports of domestic products from the United States in the fiscal year just ended will exceed those of any other country. The United Kingdom is next to the United States, the world's largest exporter of domestic products, and until within recent years surpassed the United States in its total. During recent years, however, the United States has rapidly gained upon and finally overtaken the United Kingdom in the race for supremacy as an exporter of domestic products.

The first year in which the exports of domestic products from the United Kingdom was 1898, the excess in our favor in that year being about 28 million dollars. In 1899 the pendulum swung the other way, the exports from the United Kingdom exceeding those from the United States by about 35 million dollars.

In 1900 those from the United States exceeded those from the United Kingdom by about 35 million dollars. In the year ending June 30, 1902, those of the United States exceeded those of the United Kingdom by about 8 million dollars. In the fiscal year 1903 the United Kingdom was again at the front, her total of domestic exports exceeding that of the United States by 22 million dollars. In the fiscal year 1904 the United States will apparently be again in the lead, since figures for eleven months already in hand show for that period an excess of 38 million dollars in favor of the United States.

After they get through repairing that capitol the new capitol will be built and seventy-five thousand dollars will have been expended for nothing.

Just one hundred years ago the Americans taught the Sultan of Morocco a lesson at a gun's mouth and they were ready to do it again.

There seems to be no let up in these hot days yet last winter when the mercury was way down we wished for them.

The national convention said that the Cook convention was the republican convention. That should settle it.

The eastern magazine writers are taking a more temperate view of the Wisconsin political situation these days.

It is too hot weather for political discussions but still some people enjoy them, regardless of weather.

This eastern war is involving many other nations just at present to suit Europe.

Maybe that convention at St. Louis was a great one but it chose two dead ones just the same.

Something like fairness is necessary if the truth is told by the third term papers.

Rock county farmers should be satisfied with republican rule with prices for their products high and steady.

Now the democrats can get together and try to patch up a harmony ticket with two factions at war with each other.

The coolest place now is down cellar just as it is the warmest when the furnace is going in the winter.

Almost every day some accident happens and we read of it and shudder and forget it the next day.

It is a good thing that this meat strike came in the hot weather when vegetables and fish can be had.

La Follette taking against monopolies and riding in an automobile will be a touching picture.

Is there a conference at Mackinac that so many politicians are wending their way thither?

The political situation does not seem to affect the national market reports any.

So even Senator Stout has his doubts as to the La Follette ticket?

Senator John C. Spooner is resting up for the fall campaign.

There will be a democratic governor of Wisconsin next fall.

Election day comes in November but the political talk has begun.

Chicago strikers have taken a hot time for their vacation period.

How about stopping mail vessels on high sea? Is it piracy?

This is weather for the ice man.

PRESS COMMENT

Oshkosh Northwestern: If the meat strike lasts long enough the people of this section may have to fall back on frogs' legs.

Chippewa Herald: The row of the vice-presidential candidate of the democrats regrets that his father was nominated. So will his father in a few months.

Madison Democrat: In demanding a minimum of 18 1/2 cents per hour for unskilled labor stockyard strikers seek to work a skin game on the packers.

Evansville Enterprise: Southern watermelons have made their appearance in this market, they are large and nice to look upon, but we have not tried their flavor yet, fearing they are too rich for our blood.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Gov. La Follette will treat the Mendota hospital matter with the same contemptuous silence that his characterized his conduct in every case where public scandals have been uncovered.

La Crosse Chronicle: The democratic party is making its regular appeal for the confidence of the people, but furnishes no better guaranty than usual that it will not abuse that confidence.

Waupaca Post: Three saloons will be opened in Wild Rose, soon. Simultaneously it is announced that the village board is converting a blacksmith shop into a jail. There's nothing like being prepared.

El Paso Herald: Sherman Bell announces that he has now pacified Colorado. Send him over to help Russia deal with those annoying brown persons who are infesting the neighborhood of Port Arthur.

Cincinnati Commercial Tribune: Because a Kansas City woman rushed up to a gentleman in the depot and kissed him, under the impression that he was her long-lost brother, just home from China, the fellow had her arrested for "disturbing the peace." If the loveliest of her sex ever travels Cincinnatiward she won't meet with that sort of return. Not any.

Green Bay Gazette: The action of those persons at the north side band concert who tipped a man out of his buggy when he tried to drive his horse through the crowds may have been a little summary, but were some such treatment administered to the lawless ones who insist on making a disturbance at the concerts, no one would find any fault.

Toma Monitor-Herald: It has been announced that Gov. La Follette will go after votes this fall by automobile. Pardon our transgression, but the governor really "auto" do something to smooth over the recollection of that $55.55 special train in which he toured the state a few months ago.

Superior Telegram. Dr. J. Spaulding, of Racine, appears to have carried his opposition to the meat trust further than was necessary. His wife applied for a divorce, and she testified before the court that her husband had compelled her to cook a cat he had killed. Judge Holden, before whom the case came, thought the facts were sufficient and ordered a decree of divorce entered.

Racine News: It is now alleged that at the time the Declaration of Independence was promulgated July 4, 1776, not a member had signed it, and the names of some of the signers were attached without their knowledge. Alas! Why rake up such ancient history in these days of power and expansion? The Declaration has served its purpose. It is now a curiosity.

Bloomer Advance: This paper is supporting the regular republican ticket headed by Roosevelt, Fairbanks and Cook, because they are the regular nominees of the party. The convention that nominated Roosevelt and Fairbanks recognized the state convention which nominated Cook as the regular republican convention. This is evidence enough to convince any conceivable man that Cook is the regular nominee of the party, and as such should receive the support of the party. This paper has never refused to support a regular republican candidate, and it is not going to do so now.

Stanley Republican It appears to us that if the followers of Robert M. La Follette really and honestly expect to see his name in the republican column of the ballot this fall they would cease trading the memory of McKinley and Hanna, stop their abuse of the national committee and the national republican convention. If the republican ticket is good enough for the La Follette bunch to tie to they should stop slinging mud at the national end of it, anyway. The fact is that those high in the La Follette organization have no expectation of ever seeing the name of La Follette again on a republican ticket, and this explains the attitude of reckless abandon which they have assumed.

NARROW ESCAPE

FOR ED. BANFIELD

Is Tipped Over At Indian Ford While Trying To Save Team Of Horses.

Ed Banfield, a prominent contractor, had a narrow escape from a watery grave at Indian Ford yesterday and just saved from drowning by the prompt work of his companions. It appears that work of strengthening and repairing the dam is being done and Banfield was in charge of the work. A large team of horses with a work in the shallow water with a huge mud scraper. In some way the scraper forced the horses into deep water and Banfield went in a row boat to hold the animals' heads above water until the harness could be cut. Meanwhile one of the horses' had fallen down and the other had become so frightened it stood on the other horse's body and drowned it. Two men accompanied Banfield in the boat and the craft was not equal to the load and sank. Banfield came to the top and seized the bottom of the boat only to be tipped off again. George Palmer also tried to use the boat for a buoy. Banfield was weighted down with his clothes and sank twice before a rope thrown from shore to Palmer could be passed to him.

There's no simplified method for winning wagers; losing wagers does not require any.

The reason that a dead heat creates twice the ordinary amount of interest is that there is something simultaneous about it.

VISITORS FROM FAR OFF CHILI

WISH TO BUILD UP OUR TRADE IN SOUTH AMERICA.

TELL OF WONDERFUL COUNTRY

J. Parker Road And Orestes Tonnerro May Introduce Janesville Fountain Pens, Underwear and Porch Shades.

J. Parker Road, Jr., of the firm of Read & Son, New York, and Orestes Tonnerro, two young merchants engaged in business in South America, have been stopping at the Myers house since Saturday. They came here primarily to confer with the Parker Pen Co. with regard to handling their lines in several of the large cities of Chili and Argentina, but other concerns here, including the Hough Shade corporation and the Lewis Knitting works, have interested them and it is quite possible that several Janesville products will find their way to consumers on the west coast of the southern continent through their agency. They leave for Oshkosh in the day or two to confer with a concern manufacturing chairs, after which they will go to Grand Rapids, Mich., and from thence to New York city, taking their departure for South America about the first of August.

Mr. Tonnerro is a native of South America and Mr. Road has spent several years in that continent. It is their intention to open up large stores in the three Chilean cities of Santiago with a population of 275,000; Valparaiso and Concepcion, each having 275,000. They will carry about twelve lines of North American manufactures and will deal exclusively with the wholesale trade on a commission basis with the firms they represent. "It is our idea to get well established before the Panama canal is completed," said Mr. Road this morning. "We are confident that the waterway will be finished before many years have elapsed. The project is not going to be as difficult as many imagine. The builders from the United States will profit largely from the work that has already been done—at least that was the way it looked to us the last time we came up. Its completion means a big boom for all the cities on the coast of Chili. The government already operates over a hundred merchant vessels and the flag will be a frequent visitor in New York harbor when the new route is opened."

A Wonderful Country

"Chili you know is a ribbon of coast country about 2,000 miles long and 100 miles in breadth. The snow-capped Andes mountains run nearly the entire length. The thermometer never rises above 82 and there is always a breeze from the sea or the mountain tops. The natives would regard it as a hardship to endure such weather as you have had here in Janesville for the past three days. The air is dry and the temperature even. Frosts are unknown. I do not think that California's climate can compare with that of the central portion of this South American country. The people constitute an honorable exception to the insolent character of many of the other South American races, particularly the Mexicans. While they are not yet extensively engaged in manufactures, they have made some progress along this line. They are now building their own locomotives—not equal to the transcontinental "jays" in this country, perhaps, but making a speed equal to the average locomotive used in Wisconsin. Our train service in any of the cities, I think, is superior to what you have in Janesville. Besides the railroads the cities are amply provided with electric lines. Santiago, for instance, has 68 miles of trolley service.

"The country is rich in gold and silver mines. The government derives a revenue of $11 a ton on the nitrate mines and over five million tons were exported last year. It is also rich in agricultural products and is now second only to France as a wine-growing country. The mercantile business there is somewhat different from that of this country. There is a demand only for the best. There is no middle class corresponding to what most of us belong in this country and consequently there is no call for the cheaper articles of manufacture in any line. There is the high class which is wealthy, and the low class. The low class is self-respecting, indulges in no luxuries, and does not attempt to imitate. So, you see, the people either buy the best furniture or buy no furniture at all."

WHEN THE BAND PLAYS ITS TUNES

All Eyes Turn Towards The Great Pike Next Tuesday Week—Wonderful Sights

This evening at the golf links the last preliminary steps for the great and only "Pike" ever seen in Wisconsin will be consummated. As there is much to be talked over it is hoped that every member of the golf club will be present to aid in suggesting ideas and learning what has been already accomplished. The "Down the Pike" is to be a success and already letters from outside cities are making inquiries about it and railroad rates and transportation facilities to and from the grounds. One of the features of the exhibition will be the German village. There will be sights in this particular attraction that can never be equalled again. Think of four pretty society buds and four society gentlemen dancing the famous wooden shoe dance of old Germany. Can you not hear the sweet music of the Heideberg songs that have made Germany famous? All will be in costume and it will be one of the prettiest attractions on the grounds. Every day new features are added to the Turkish palace scene and the sights which the spectators will see are worthy of the theatre rather than the out-of-door attraction. The sinking of the Russian ship by Admiral Togo and his brave Japs will be unique and instructive. No one should fail to see this. Old Vienna promises delicious morsels and the High Grade Art side show will furnish laughs enough to last until next winter. "Down the Pike" is a novelty. People do not want to make the mistake and think it is a fake. Far from it. There are features there that no fakir could ever conceive. They are genuine. From the ossified man to the whirling dervish of the Turkish palace they are genuine. Wagons will meet every car and cars will run until one o'clock. No street fair ever boasted of the attractions that will be seen at the golf links. Then the grand band concert by the Imperial band, the drum corps of the Russian warship, the music of the Hungarian orchestra, the music of the German village, the little German band, the squealing of the old fiddlers at the country dance, the illumination of the grounds, the strange sights, will all go to make up one of the finest attractions ever seen in Janesville. It is open to everyone and everyone is invited to attend. It is a Mardi Gras, carnival, Midway, circus, and Pike all in one and one in all.

FRANK FIFIELD HURT IN RUNAWAY

THROWN FROM VEHICLE ON JACKSON STREET THIS MORNING

RIGHT LEG IS FRACTURED

Below The Knee And Left Limb Was Badly Cut And Bruised—Sons Escaped Unhurt.

With the terrible accident of yesterday fresh in their minds another ambulance call this morning gave spectators who saw the vehicle tearing up Milwaukee street a sensation of nervous terror and dread. Shortly before eleven o'clock Frank Fifield, accompanied by his two sons, were driving southward on North Jackson street behind a pony that has never become accustomed to railroad trains. Near the North-Western crossing the whip was dropped and Mr. Fifield turned the horse around and went back to recover it. As they neared the crossing the pony became frightened at a passing train and started to rear and sidestep and execute other equally unpleasant maneuvers. As Mr. Fifield attempted to rein him in the bit broke and the animal, thus relieved of all restraint, started on a mad race down the street. Mr. Fifield leaped out over the dashboard and seized the harness-pad attempting in this manner to gain control. Before he could do so, however, the vehicle was thrown against the curbing near Trinity church and partially overturned. The two boys jumped out and were unhurt. At the intersection of Wall street and in front of the Presbyterian church the rig was hurled violently against a bit of planking spanning the gutter from the curbing to the road and Mr. Fifield was thrown violently from the vehicle, striking the ground on his knees. Observers in the city hall who had witnessed the accident ran to the aid of the injured man and carried him to the mayor's room where he was placed upon a couch to await the arrival of the physicians who had already been telephoned for. Dr. Chittenden was the first to arrive and Dr. Fifield came a few moments later. An examination revealed a bad fracture of the right limb just below the knee. The other limb and knee was badly cut but not otherwise injured. The ambulance was called and Mr. Fifield was removed to his home where he is now resting as comfortably as possible under the circumstances. He will be confined to his bed for several weeks.

CANADIANS VISIT TAX COMMISSION

Go To Madison To Explore Into Hidden Mysteries of State Finance.

A special provincial tax commission of Ontario, Canada, is touring a number of states in the northwest studying methods and applications of laws for assessment and taxation. They were in Madison yesterday conferring with the Wisconsin state tax commission. Before the tour is ended it will include the states of Illinois, Indiana and Minnesota. At Madison the commissioners were especially interested in the application of the ad valorem railroad corporation taxation law passed by the last legislature, according to which the property of the railroads is taxed the same as the property of individuals rather than by the license fee system. The commission is composed of W. D. Pettipiece, Forest, chairman; H. J. Wilkinson, Toronto, secretary; A. Bell, Chatham; Adam Shortt, Kingston; A. E. Sample, Toronto, stenographer.

FARMERS CAN USE THEIR LEISURE

John M. True Predicts The Greatest Crops In Years Will Be Harvested This Year.

The farmers of Wisconsin have reason to dance with joy in anticipation of fat stacks and overflowing bins, according to the midsummer crop report issued today by John M. True, secretary of the state board of agriculture. From reports from correspondents in every county of the state of Wisconsin, Secretary True makes the statement that crops are in better condition than for a long period of years. The hay crop is unusually heavy, the percentages of condition of wheat, rye and barley are all well above the mark of 90, and the corn crop, which was late and a month ago appeared to be at least a partial failure is whooping along with the hot weather. The greatest Wisconsin crop is the department of the dairy and prosperity in this line is evidenced by the rich pastures that have prevailed the entire season. Secretary True's report discloses the remarkable fact that there are in Wisconsin some 15,000 acres of sugar beets in cultivation. The largest fields are near Janesville and Chippewa Falls.

THE WEATHER

Temperature last 24 hours taken from U. S. registered thermometer at Helmsstreet's drugstore: highest, 84 above; lowest, 69 above; ther, at 7 a. m., 73; at 3 p. m., 84; sunshine; wind, east.

Wind Storm Does Damage: The wind storm last evening short circuited about a hundred telephone wires in the city and blew down many leaves in the courthouse park. At Monroe the damage was much greater.

MEETING

A meeting of the committees having charge of the Fourth of July celebration will be held at the Gas Co's office, 5 North Main street, Wednesday July 20 at 8:00 p. m. A full attendance is desired.

L. F. WORTENDYKE.

SO MUCH BETTER

That's because we make a homemade potato bread and again we have the best baker in the state, 4¢ a loaf instead of 5¢ may seem a small difference, but it saves you 20¢ on each $100 paid for bread. If it was the other way and you were paying us that much more you would feel that the bread itself was worth it. We bake during the day which makes our bread 12 hours fresher, too.

Wine Drops—No one ever ate anything like them. We all kind of inherit a taste for a rich sticky ginger and molasses cake. They are large, too, for 10¢ a doz.

For supper, home-made potato slices 15¢ qt. Hammy tarts at 2¢ a piece. Cold sliced loin of pork, ham, or corn beef is sensible and very inexpensive.

Lard, best made, 5-lb. pail, 50¢.

CHILD REUNITES PARTED PARENTS

EATS GRASS THAT IS POISONED

Seven-Year-Old Miss Worries of the Estrangement of Father and Mother Until She Determined to Die—May End in Happiness.

Kokomo, Ind., July 19.—Theresa, the 7-year-old daughter of Adolphus and Mrs. Munier of this city, tried to commit suicide here Monday. Never was so great a tragedy expressed in so few words. Three lives entered into the tragedy as dramatic persons—that of little Theresa, her mother, and her father.

Some little time ago Trouble stalked up to the Munier door and entered without awaiting permission. From that time on, Trouble remained in the home, a skeleton in and out of the closet. At last the family relations of Adolphus Munier and his wife became so strained it was impossible for them longer to keep up even a semblance of affection for each other. Soon it became noised about that they were about to separate, and it was not long after Dame Rumor started the ball of scandal rolling when the two really did separate.

Little One Suffers. Theresa Munier, 7 years of age, was of a most affectionate disposition. She loved her father and mother equally well, and it was apparent to every one that the blow of the separation was more than the little one could bear. She wilted like a desecrated flower, and no one was able to console her. No one, however, expected that the little child would dream of taking the desperate step she took. Some hinted that she would die of a broken heart if matters were not adjusted between her father and mother, but every one was surprised when the news flew about the town, like wildfire, that Theresa had attempted to kill herself.

Child Determines to Die. It seems the little one, as so often happens in the case of human beings much older than her in experience, reached a point where she felt she could no longer endure the pain of separation from her father, and the coldness of her mother whenever the father's name was mentioned. The child had no money with which to purchase poison, but she had determined to die, and, like every other would-be suicide, the determination was so strong her very will helped her to find a way out of the difficulty.

Eats Poisoned Grass. Theresa solved the problem of life and death, or, rather, attempted to solve it, by lying on the ground and eating a quantity of grass that had been liberally sprinkled with poison for bugs. Soon she was in great agony, and suffered so much pain she was compelled to tell her mother what she had done. A doctor was hurriedly summoned, and it is just possible that the child's life may be saved. "A little child shall lead them," spoke a great Teacher nineteen hundred years or more ago. Out of this tragedy that threatened to destroy the Munier home happiness has resulted, for, melted by the common interest of their child's suffering, Mr. and Mrs. Munier have settled their differences, and in the future little Theresa, if she lives, will have no cause for attempting to take her own life.

Every Throb

Of My Heart Was Plainly Felt, and Sometimes Very Painful.

If your pulse is too strong, and your heart throbs so that you can feel the force of the heart-beat against your chest, your heart is weak and needs attention.

This is usually caused by long continued palpitation, over-work, excessive exercise, heart strain, and the condition indicates serious heart trouble. You should act at once.

The very best thing to do is to take Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, a remedy that will strengthen the nerves and muscles of the heart, and restore them to their normal condition.

If you neglect to do this, disastrous consequences will surely follow. You will have smothering spells, pain in the heart, faintness, the valves of the heart will become leaky, and the heart left in a death struggle.

"My heart bothered me so that I could feel every pulsation. Could only sleep on my left side. Doctor told me that I had one-half enlargement of the heart. I had all the usual symptoms of heart trouble. I took about 15 or 20 bottles of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and am completely cured. I have had no symptoms of heart disease for two years, and am attending to my business affairs, which I could not do before."

SACRED RIGHT OF CITIZENSHIP

Mr. Combs Says Privileges by Naturalization Cannot Be Altered. Washington, July 19.—The forthcoming volume of foreign relations discloses the firm stand taken by Mr. Combs, American minister to Guatemala, in connection with the case of Posada, a naturalized American and a native of Guatemala, who complained of an effort to enforce a year loan from him and of restrictions placed on his movements. Mr. Combs informed the foreign office that his government did not bestow citizenship lightly and in a subsequent note to the foreign office the minister laid down this doctrine: "When once a foreign-born citizen of another country has legally become a naturalized citizen of the United States no other power on earth can take his rights and privileges from him." Mr. Combs secured the rescinding of an order for detention of Posada and of the request for an enforced loan, further consideration to be given to the principle involved.

THE PEOPLE ALL

In Chorus Cried, Give Us Newborn's Herpicide.

This word of late has been in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found, who will deny that NEWBORN'S HERPIDIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPIDIDE means a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." Now "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBORN'S HERPIDIDE promptly destroys after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. LUMBERMAN IN BANKRUPTCY

Liabilities of Francis B. Chase of Oshkosh Are $153,697.

The principal creditors whose claims are secured are Buckstaff Edwards company, Oshkosh, $13,325; R. H. Hackett, Ashland, $6,526; German National bank, Oshkosh, $3,000; Ashland National bank, $10,000. The unsecured creditors are Lucy Whitall, Oshkosh, $19,041; R. C. Russell, Oshkosh, $7,551; Leander Choate, Oshkosh, $5,500; Benjamin Daughly, Oshkosh, $6,000; Lucy Chase, Oshkosh, $10,915; German National bank, Oshkosh, $7,925; First National bank, Berlin, $5,500.

OHIO MINES ARE ON HALF TIME

Lack of Demand for Coal Is Unprecedented in Eighth District.

Cleveland, O., July 19.—Owing to lack of demand all coal mines in the Eighth Ohio district, largely owned by Cleveland operators, have been put upon half time. The district covers the southeastern portion of the state, and is the most productive of the Ohio fields. Eight thousand men are affected by the curtailment of operations. The action of the operators is the result of an almost unprecedented stagnation in the business. Shut-downs are not confined to this district alone, but are extending to other districts of the state. The closing of many factories is the cause said to be responsible for this condition.

GIVES FORTUNE TO HER FRIEND

Miss Dolbeer Bequeaths Vast Estate to Her Confidant.
